"ROUND THE TICKER"

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—The market is higher apparently on expectation of low condition figures.

Two hundred bales of inch and a quarter cotton were sold in this market after hours yesterday at 72 cents a pound. The market is higher on expectation of low condition figures.

The coal strike now seems to be a certainty. The only good feature of the situation is the thorough preparation by the government to meet it and the determination to keep the mines open at all costs.

In western belt forecast: Louisiana, scattered rains and showers; Arkansas, probably rain; Oklahoma, fair, much colder, frost in the south, freezing in the north; east Texas, partly cloudy to cloudy; cooler; west Texas, fair and colder, freezing in the Panhandle.

GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The attempt to create a coal strike has apparently failed. This news will likely have a little bearish effect on corn.

The market is higher on expectation of low condition figures. The grain market is higher on expectation of low condition figures.

Argentine Newspapers Like Ideas of American Journals

(BY JAMES H. COLLINS.)

Mr. Collins, one of the foremost business writers of the press today, is actually working for a few months in the circulation and advertising departments of leading North American newspapers.

Buenos Aires has a number of excellent newspapers, of which perhaps La Prensa is the best known.

When the war interfered with paper supplies from Europe, Dr. Jorge Mitre, director of La Nacion, set out to find a way to continue his work.

SUBSTANTIAL ADVANCES MADE IN VARIOUS ISSUES

New York, Oct. 31.—An unusual variety of issues participated in the further substantial advance of prices in the cotton market today.

The closing was strong; sales approximately 1,500,000 shares.

COTTON PRICES REACH NEW HIGH RECORDS

New York, Oct. 31.—The cotton market recovered yesterday's losses during today's early trading.

Reports that the government had secured an injunction against the coal strike helped the tone of both cotton and stocks during the early afternoon.

The early advance was checked by a renewal of December liquidation and the market broke sharply right after the publication of the government report making the condition of the crop 51.1.

Unions of Railway Men Called to Take Strike Vote

Action Means Protest Against Passage by Congress of Cummings Bill

Washington, Oct. 31.—Orders have been issued local unions of the railway organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor to take a strike vote in the event that the anti-strike clauses of the Cummings bill for the return of the railroads is adopted by congress.

A really good appetite should appear blue by artificial light as well as daylight; some stones have a trace of black and some red; the latter making them resemble amethyst, especially by lamplight or gaslight.

"Well, here is one reason," I replied. "The Yankee has heard that Latin-Americans are horse traders—that every business deal involves a kick-back at the beginning of the year we shall be able to announce an advertising rate card on North American lines. It has taken us nearly two years to make this adjustment."

"If you have accomplished this in two years you are to be congratulated—it took almost a generation in our country. Another reason for the tancy on the part of our advertisers in this field is that we lack information about the people of Argentina. At home, you know, advertising is a science, and we have a right to appeal to our own people, whom we thoroughly know—motives like ambition for success, pride in appearance, the desire for comfort, the desire for the saving of labor and so on. American advertisers, not being able yet to clearly visualize the people of Argentina and understand the line of tancy which will impress them, are not able to plan advertising campaigns here and prepare advertising copy which will produce results."

"We have established our New York office largely to give information and advice," said Dr. Mitre.

"I have watched your advertising announcement in the United States," I added, "and believe that they might be arranged better. You have here not merely a newspaper, but an institution. La Nacion was founded by your grandfather, Bartolome Mitre. His story is probably so familiar to you Argentines that you forget that it is entirely unknown to us."

"The circulation of La Nacion is now 12,000 copies, and it is the largest newspaper in Argentina."

"Can you explain why there are newspapers in Philadelphia, a city approximately the size of Buenos Aires, and have three or four times the circulation?"

"Whereupon there followed a discussion of circulation methods. It appeared that La Nacion had no such functionary as a circulation manager. Having had occasion to investigate circulation methods of American papers like the Public Ledger and other Philadelphia dailies, the doctor, over the telephone, the Eagle, the Boston Globe and the New York World, the writer was able to tell Dr. Mitre things that a newspaper man would not tell him."

"One of the four of Argentine business must be overcome," he declared finally. "It is the fault of too much conservatism. We endeavor to run a big business enterprise with one man, the director, and lack big men to run such departments as circulation and advertising."

"With the quick Argentine intelligence, the doctor said, it is not a little difficulty in strengthening your organization."
